

Design with a smile

The beautifully designed Trimline Tourmaline is the result of the creative talents of Elke van Raamsdonk. Her fire for design lit at the Design Academy in Eindhoven. One of the world's leading design schools, at the department focusing on products that enhance human well-being.

Her passion for design is triggered by her desire to make the world a happier and a more beautiful place. With subtle adjustments, Elke knows how to give products a feminine touch. Softness, refinement and playfulness characterize her designs.

A fireplace in your home should always look fantastic, even if the fire is turned off.

One of the first things Elke focused on before starting the design is the desire to get together, sitting around a campfire enjoying the flames and warmth. The Trimline Tourmaline has perfectly recreated this unique experience in the home.

The colored stools at the bottom give the fireplace an extra dimension. Easy to reach and versatile to use. The fabric colors match the natural materials of the fireplace. The natural brown color of bark on the crackling logs in the fireplace. And the fiery red color of the flickering flames. Designed with the desire of a warm get-together.
